Why do you worry and grieve more than necessary for the various incidents? We are not outside of Divine Providence, so as to be directed by mere chance. Therefore, whatever happens to us happens with God's knowledge, and so nothing will happen to us beyond our strength!

Let those who do not believe in Divine Providence drown in worry; they are certainly justified. But we, who believe that God is present everywhere and that there is no creature outside His providence, are not justified when we worry more than necessary, for through this action we show a lack of faith and illumination.

"Blessed is the man who hopes in God, for as a lion he will trust in Him." (Prov.28:1). If God is the One Who permits it, Thy will be done, Lord. "Who has known the mind of the Lord? Or who has become His counselor?" (Rom.11:34). Who is able to search out the will of the Lord! "If you do not become as little children, you will by no means enter the kingdom of heaven," (Mt.18:3) that is through faith and innocence.
